

ZAGAT 2010

2010 ZAGAT Review:

“Rich in butterfat” and “nostalgia”, this “Oakland landmark” – an “Archie and Veronica ice cream fountain with lunch counter menu” – has catered to “four generations of crab sandwich lovers” and the “eternal kid in us all” who screams for the “best milkshakes” and “legendary” “monster” sundaes “dripping with homemade caramel”...the “gargantuan concoctions” (also scooped up at Oakland International) “still rock the house”.
